Re: Recognition of Illinois Concealed Firearm Licenses

Dear Colonel Sankey,

Recently, the state of Illinois enacted a law authorizing the issuance of concealed firearm licenses. Pursuant to Neb. Rev. Stat. § 69-2448, the Nebraska Attorney General's Office has completed a review of that state's concealed carry laws.

Based on our analysis, the standards for concealed firearm licenses issued by the State of Illinois are equal to or greater than the standards contained in Nebraska's Concealed Handgun Permit Act. It is the determination of this office that Illinois licenses should be recognized by the State of Nebraska as being equal to or greater than Nebraska's statutory standards.

Other than this change, there are no additional alterations to the list of recognized permits currently found on the Nebraska State Patrol's website.

Sincerely,

JON BRUNING
Attorney General

John R. Freudenberg
Assistant Attorney General
Criminal Bureau Chief
